The Principal addressed the faculty on issues pertaining to NAAC update and last working day.

A follow up was done on the status of NARG work. Each criterion head was asked to give updates and feedback on compilation of work assigned. Also the deadline for collection of documents was discussed.

The last working day was decided as one week prior to the University Exams.

Regular classes to continue after preparatory Exams, as it is important to give revision and work towards 90% pass in every class.

Weak / irregular students to be identified, and parents to be informed.

The Principal suggested arranging a meeting of the weak students with their parents, where he would address them, highlighting the constraints ahead of them. It was also decided that an undertaking would be taken from them that they may be detained if they do not show improvement.

The Principal sternly warned the faculty against supposing / favouring any student who does not deserve to write his exams, either for attendance or performance reasons.

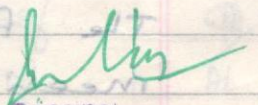

Faculty were advised not to encourage the existing irregular students to attend classes post preparatory exams.

Study Material to be updated and mailed to the library mail id and a copy to be saved on the desktop in the office.

Remedial classes to be conducted: focus especially on ~~poor~~ students with high attendance and poor performance.

The Principal instructed everyone to coordinate and complete NAAC documentations at the earliest as ^{fixed as} NOV 3rd, 2018 was the date of final submission.

As there were no more issues to be discussed, the meeting concluded.
